Press Release - Save My Musik Goes Live to the Public!

02 March 2009

Save My Musik proudly announces our site launch for the general public today! Our company was founded on the concept of storing, managing and playing one's music collection from anywhere in the world, and to do that without any software limitations. Our guiding principles remain the delivery of a secure, quality based-site that is easy and intuitive to use.

We thank the countless many who have assisted our company in getting us to launch, and encourage everyone to spread our message and news about our launch. We look forward to making more announcements in the near future.

Please visit our new site at www.savemymusik.com and register for a free trial account.
